Individual project report rubric

	10 points Excellent	8-9 points Good	6-7 points Sufficient	0-5 point Insufficient	Feedback/ Comments
Motivation and Work Plan (30%)	Project plan is thorough and discussed proactively with TA; actively contributes to group discussion; presentation on the same level of a research project	Clear plan discussed with the TA; consistent participation in group discussion; attends and contributes to the presentation	Plan is vague or not discussed with the TA; some engagement with the group; attends presentation	Little to no plan submitted or discussed with the TA; little to no participation in group activities; absent from presentation
Content (40%)	Excellent effort with multiple criteria met from the guidelines; high-quality implementation and experimentation of results with explanations; excellent effort in troubleshooting ;	Solid effort of implementation and experimentation, demonstration of results with explanations; solid effort in troubleshooting	Some attempt at implementation and experimentation ; results are limited; limited effort in troubleshooting	Minimal or no effort shown in the implementation and experimentation project; unclear and irrelevant attempt
Writing (30%)	Writing is very clear, well-structured, like a research paper; excellent demonstration and explanation of results. Insights include deep analysis and rationale.	Writing is clear and well-structured; results are clearly demonstrated and explanation with critical insight	Writing is somewhat clear, follows structure; limited demonstration of results and explanations	Writing is unclear, lacks structure; no demonstration of results and their explanations

Knock-out criteria:

- The individual report in writing must be submitted for consideration in motivation and content. If no report is submitted, the whole project will not be considered.
- A passing final grade for the course can only be earned when for all components (both the exam and the individual report) at least a 5.0 is earned, and the weighted final grade is at least a 5.8.
- Project work with a mark lower than 5.0 can be modified and resubmitted. An examiner will offer a student a repair opportunity when the obtained result of an assessment other than a written examination leads to a partial grade in the range of 4.0 up to 6.0 (excluding 6.0). This sub concerns the regular examination opportunity. The maximum obtainable result for the repair option is a 6.0.

Instructions for graders:

- You can award points in half steps.